

The course is presented in PowerPoint/Audio format, which many students find easier to learn from because it utilizes both visual and auditory senses. This type of presentation allows the student to have a learning experience similar to a classroom. You will see and hear the material explained just as you would in a classroom, with the added advantage that if you missed a point, it's easy to rewind the presentation and see and hear it again, as often as necessary for you to clearly understand what is being taught.
